ground floor, but the man started upstairs. When Leech called after him, so the clerk says, the man jumped as though he had stuck a pin in him.

"I asked him if he wanted to go straight to his room," said Leech yesterday, "and he said that he did. He left a call for t o'clock in the evening, and although I didn't suspect then that the man might be Young it struck me as queer that a man should want to sleep at that time of day. When I left to go home, A. B. Meade, my relief. took the desk, and I left the man's call

Meade said that at 6 o'clock he went to call the man. He had to knock several times to arouse him, Meade said, and when the man did wake, he answered in a low voice as though afraid that some one would hear him. At first the man refused to open the door, Meade says, demanding to know who wanted him, but when the clerk told him that it was 6 o'clock he said that he would be right out. A few minutes later he came out into the reading room, and after looking around for a moment at some men who were reading evening newspapers, walked out. Meade asked him if he was coming back and he

PELLOW LODGER SUSPECTED TOO LATE. One of the lodgers who had been reading a paper in the public room walked over to Meade after the strange todger had left and said:

"Don't know him," said Meade.

"Well," said the other, "he's a queer acting fellow and I think he looks a lot like the pictures the papers are printing of this man Young who killed a woman In New York the other day."

Meade became interested, looked at one or two pictures of Young in an afternoon paper and made up his mind that the man did look like Young. He didn't go after the stranger or give the alarm, because he believed the man would come back soon. A little later Leech returned to the house, and Meade says that before he mentioned his suspicions to him, Leech, who had been looking over the papers while at dinner,

Say, I believe that fellow Lee who came here this afternoon is Young, the mur-

The men compared the description of the lodger with that of Young in the alarm sent out by the police, and they decided that it tallied exactly. Nevertheless, they didn't inform the police of their suspicions, and it wasn't until yesterday morning that the authorities learned that there was a strong probability that the man they were after had spent the night in the lodging

CIGARETTE SMOKER TRAILED.

At 5 o'clock yesterday morning a visitor to George Snyder's saloon at 225 Broadway, next door to the lodging house, said he had seen a man lying on the grass in the front yard of the furnished-room house of Mrs Annie Love, at 208 South Eighth street, diagonally across the square at this point of Broadway. The man on the grass, the other man said, was smoking cigarettes and acting queerly. Two young men, Tom Walsh and Lou Nicholson of 225 South Ninth street, who were in the saloon, de cided to go over and see what the man was doing. The moment they reached the house, they say, he jumped up from the grass in great excitement and said:

"I know what you want to do. You wan to arrest me. Well, keep away or I'll shoot

The man then walked up and down the grass plot, puffing on his cigarette and swearing at Walsh and Nicholson. He appeared to be greatly excited and one of the young men said he guessed he'd call a policeman. On hearing that, the man jumped into the road and boarded a Lee avenue car, bound south.

The incident created some excitement in the neighborhood and the lodging house le immediately jumped to the conclusion that this was the man who had been at their place the night before. The description that Walsh and Nicholson gave of him fits that of the man who stopped for four hours at the Glenwood house and, therefore, also describes Young.

Capt. Short heard of the matter and questioned the conductor of the Lee avenue car which passed that corner at 5 o'clock in the morning. The conductor said he remembered the incident and also recalled where his passengers got off. For the rest of the day after that the conductor was acting as guide for Capt. Short and the detectives. The chase took the officers to Canarsie, Brownsville, Flatbush, Flatlands and Bergen Beach. At 11 o'clock last night that search was given up, no trace of the man having been fo nd.

CONEY ISLAND COMBED FINE.

But there has been no relaxation in the general search. Every point is being watched, and although the police are disappointed over not having caught the man already they are still confident that he is in the city, and will soon be found.

Vesterday a story reached them that a man answering Young's description had reported Congressman Roberts's trial in been seen at Coney Island, Capt. Titus | Washington for a Salt Lake City newshas previously sent a full description of Young to the Coney Island sleuths. He supplemented this with a batch of photographs of the man, made by the headquarters photographer, who has already made several hundred pictures of Young.

After these pictures were circulated Coney Island policemen walked up and down the streets there, photograph of Young in hand, scanning the faces of passersby and endeavoring to see some likeness in each to the picture. It was reported at one time or another from a dozen different places vesterday that Young had been seen, but Coney Island for all the photographs did not pick up even one suspect PITTSBURG WANDERER GATHERED IN.

The police of the Bergen street station in Brooklyn did better. After the description of Young was read to the squad which went out at noon yesterday, William Patchen, 35 years old, a wanderer fom Pittsburg, appeared at Seventh and Flatbush avenues. A policeman thought Patchen looked like Young and arrested him in no time at all Capt. Titus was notified and sent De tective Jackson over to see the man. Jackson saw at once that the man was not Young. and suggested that he be released. But once in a Brooklyn station house, a prisoner has to spend the night there, unless some one is good enough to bail him out, so Patchen was led back to a cell. He will be arraigned in court to-day and discharged.

YOUNG HAS A LIGHT OVERCOAT. Capt. Schmittberger's activities yesterday resulted in no new discovery, but several new theories were unearthed by the captain, who learned where the crime had been committed from the Hoboken chief of police. Capt. Schmittberger received a letter yesterday from Koenig, the lodging-house keeper, who says Young applied o him for a room with a stove in it on Fritay night. In the letter Koenig said that e had forgotten to tell that when Young was at his place he wore a light overcoat. Capt. Schmittberger indulged in more abuse of Capt. Titus. He resented the statement made by Titus that Chief Donovan had done wrong in taking his information to the precinct captain rather than regarded Titus as an incompetent official. Titus, when told what Schmittberger had said, laughed and refused to discuss it

YARN THAT THE MORMONS DID IT. A further effort was made vesterday to fasten responsibility for the killing of Mrs. Pulitzer on the Mormons. On the authority of Miss Elizabeth Dickenson, the young woman who became a Mormon in 1901, but renounced her allegiance later, a statement was printed that Young instead of being an outcast from the Church, was in reality an ardent worker in the cause, and that Mrs. Pulitzer, instead of being the woman she was supposed to be, was secretly a Mormon, and had attended Mormon services in this city and Perth

Miss Dickenson said she had seen Young at a number of Mormon gatherings accompanied by a blond woman answering Mrs. Pulitzer's description, who was known as Miss Nelsen, which was Mrs. Pulitzer's maiden name. Incidentally, Miss Dickenon told that she had quit the Church in fear of her life, and declared that the blood atonement tenet, which is that a Mormon who sins can only be cleansed by being killed by another Mormon, is still an active principle of the Mormon faith, and that Young was one of its leading exponents.

YOUNG WASN'T A MORMON Although the Mormon elders have all repudiated Young and it is known that his own father, an ardent Mcrmon, would not have him in his house, President John G. McQuarrie of the Eastern Division of the Mormon Church and Elders Snow, Woods, Porter and Taylor were asked about it ngain last night, just after they had held a service at 151 West 125th street. President McQuarrie said: Young was not a Morman and never atended our services. As for the woman he killed, none of us ever saw or heard of her before this tragedy occurred. It is not true that she ever attended our services. As for Young, the first I ever saw of him was two months ago, when he came to me for money. I lectured him severely on the way he was living and the disgrace he was bringing on his family. Then I gave him a little money, and as we were having a service about that time, he came in and attended it. That is the only service he ever attended here and I suppose he simply came in because I had given him money.

"Young never did any mission work for the Mormon Church and never had any interest in the Mormon Church. As for his being in the Perth Amboy Mission, that is ridiculous. The man was never in Perth Amboy and a man who was not a Mormon and knew nothing of our faith would hardly be doing work for the church.

NO VENGEANCE FOR MISS DICKENSON. "I have seen Miss Dickenson's statement about a Miss Nelsen, who is supposed to be Mrs. Pulitzer, being a Mormon and coming to Mormon services with Young. This is absurd and, of course, untrue. There are not so many Mormons here but that every one is personally known to me, and there never was a Miss Nelsen or any woman answering that description a member of the Mormon Church here.

'As for Miss Dickenson, she left the Church of her own free will, and when she went I told her that if it was her honest conviction that our faith was not the right one, she was doing well to abandon it told her then that she would always be welcomed at our meetings and that we would look on her as a sister Only a month ago. she came to see me at my office, 172 West Eighty-first street. She came uninvited and we talked together about religion for some time. When she went away, she left her address with me, although I did not lie to that statement.

"I can only say in addition to this, that Miss Dickenson never met Hooper Young at a Mormon meeting here and that she never saw Mrs. Pulitzer at a Mormon meeting here, for the very simple reason that neither one of them was a Mormon "

The other Mormon elders heard all that President McQuarrie said and said their views were the same. All of them said very emphatically that they hoped Young would be caught and punished for his

MORMONISM DREAM AMUSES POLICE. The police were amused at the Mormor story yesterday, because in all the exhaustive search they have made into the life of Mry. Pulicer, they have not found anything to show that she was a Mormon. Capt. Titus said yesterday that he was still firm in his opinion that Young and the woman had only known one another for a short time, and that robbery was the principal motive for the crime.

Capt. Titus said he had discovered that in Seattle Young was regarded as weakminded. He has also learned that Young paper, writing a series of anti-Mormon articles that were very bitter. That, said the captain, showed pretty well where Young stood on the subject of Mormonism. WOMAN AT MORMON MEETINGS YEARS AGO.

The murder of Mrs. Fulitzer has, of course, created a great deal of interest in Perth Amboy, where she was brought up. Yesterday, after reading that her slaver was related to Mormons folks there recalled that eight years ago a band of Latter Day Saints held meetings in Perth member of St. Stephen's Lutheran Church, attended several of the Mormon meetings with other girls in the place. One of the Mormon missionaries, according to the recalled that a few months after the meetings Mrs. Pulitzer went to New York to learn the trade of a milliner.

YOUNG'S RELATION TO MORMONISM. William Hooper Young, the murderer, was the son of John W. Young and Libby Comfield Young. Libby Comfield was a resident of Philadelphia. The children of the union were John Wesley Young. Brigham Young, William Hooper Young and Earl Young. Libbie Comfield Young was divorced from J. W. Young about twenty years ago. She married Dr. Williams and with her new husband moved to Washington Territory. John W. Young is the third son of Brigham Young, who

of the Mormon Church. Mary L. Young, who is now with her father in Paris, and William Van Cott Young. the Columbia student, who is now in Utah were John W. Young's children by Luella succeeded Joseph Smith as the president

Cobb, who divorced him several years ago FATHER HIRES A LAWYER FOR HIM. W. F. S. Hart, a lawyer of 5 Beekman street, has been retained by friends of John W. Young to defend Hooper in case he is arrested. These friends have communicated with Mr. Young, putting him in possession of the situation, and be has instructed them to engage a lawyer for his son. Mr. Hart, when seen at the Larchto the Detective Bureau, and said that he | mont Yacht Club last night, said he had | until he is through.

not been able to reach his client, but if be did succeed in getting in touch with him, he would advise him to give himself up.

"There is nothing to be gained by staying away like this," said Mr. Hart. "From what I have heard of this young man he is no better and no worse than the average young man in New York, leaving aside of course, this heinous crime. I want to state that I have not been hired by the Mormons but that I was retained by a prominent business man of this city, who is a friend of Mr Young.

MORMON SERNICES AS USUAL The four young Mormon elders who occupied one of the suites of the Young apartments in the Clarence held their regular bi-monthly Sunday night lecture in the lodge room of the Hawthorne Building. 151 and 153 West 125th street, last night

They had their usual congregation of about fifty men and women and the service, or lecture, as they prefer to call it, went on with no more than a passing reference to the events of the week. After the singing of hymns and prayer, John G. McQuarrie, president of the mission and head of the Mormon Church in the East, delivered an address which was an exposition in a general way of the relation and an explanation of its organization and The four young elders have the manners and air of theological students and the clear skin and eyes of clean livers. One, Clarence Snow, is a Harvard graduate and the professor of physics in the Agricultural College of the State University of Utah, another is a district school teacher, another a cowboy, and the fourth a bookkeeper. Mr. McQuarrie is a member of the State Legislature of Utah and a merchant. The practice in their church is to turn the of proselytizing over to zealous religionists, as these young men are. No salaries are paid and the missionaries return to their secular life whenever they feel they have done their duty. Few spend more than a year at the work unless they naries sheltered by Mr. Young, only one of those now in the apartment was in New York last July, and since they first took up their residence there, last May, the personnel of the four in the suite has been changed several times.

AS TO "BLOOD ATONEMENT."

Mr. McQuarrie spent some time after ervice last night answering questions about his faith and talking to newspaper men who came for an explanation of the so-called doctrine of "blood atonement. He said there was no tenet of his faith relating to blood atonement other than the statement in scripture that by the sheddidg of Christ's blood in atonement for the sins of men our sins are forgiven, provided we fill the conditions prescribed, and the texts such as "He that sheddeth man's blood by men shall his blood be shed," and others.

"In connection with this text, he said in Utah capital punishment was either by shooting or hanging. Shooting was most often chosen, at least by the Mormons, because by the shedding of blood this text is literally fulfilled. Executions are left, of course, to the civil law, hence capital punishment is strongly justified in Utah. Mr. McQuarrie also told the Mormon side the "Danite" and "avenging angel" period of Mormon history, which he compared with the Vigilante days of California and Montana.

TRUNK, WITH BELICS, ARRIVES.

The trunk which Young shipped to Chicago on Thursday night and which was found to contain Mrs. Pulitzer's clothing, the dirk with which she was stabbed, the pawn ticket for her diamond earrings and ask for it.

"A few days later a story was printed in the papers to the effect that Miss Dickenson, fearing the vengeance of the Mormon Church, was in hiding. The address she Church, was in hiding. The address she of the District Attorney.

"A few days later a story was printed in the papers to the effect that Miss Dickenson, fearing the vengeance of the Mormon will be opened later to-day in the presence of the District Attorney.

"A few days later a story was printed in the papers to the effect that Miss Dickenson, fearing the vengeance of the Mormon will be opened later to-day in the presence of the District Attorney.

"The Light Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fourth and the Annexed district. The Thirty-fourth and the Annexed district. The Thirty-fourth and the Annexed district and the Annexed district. The Thirty-fourth and the Annexed district and the Annexed district and the Annexed district. The Thirty-fourth and the Annexed district and the An

VICTIM'S BODY GOES HOME TO-DAY A man and a woman left at Speer's morgue in Jersey City vesterday a bundle containing clothing in which Mrs. Pulitzer will be dressed for burial. Henry Griffith, the morgue keeper, said he had expected Pulitzer last night, to complete arrangements for his wife's funeral, but the husband did not appear. The body will be shipped to-day on the Pennsylvania Railroad to Perth Amboy, where the funeral will take place at the home of Mrs. Nelsen, Mrs. Pulitzer's mother. The services will be private. The body will be buried in an oak coffin with silver handles. The coffin plate bears the inscription "Anna Pulitzer. aged 26 years."

BADLY HURT OBEYING HIS WIFE. Locked-In Dentist Takes Her Advice and Falls Two Stories.

L. V. Carmel, a dentist, of 502 Willis avenue was locked in his workroom last night by a gust of wind slamming the door shut. There was a spring lock on the outside of the door and rather than break it his wife told him to climb from the window to the dining room window, four feet away. In doing so Carmel lost his balance and fell two stories to the street. He was picked up unconscious and taken to the Lincoln Hospital, where it was found that his skull had been fractured. He may

SHAKE-UP IN JERSEY BRIGADE. Cant. Browning Under Military Arrest;

Charges Against a Lleutenant. TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 21.-Troubles have Amboy and that Mrs. Pulitzer, then a girl arisen in the Second Brigade of the New Jersey National Guard that threaten a shake-up. Capt. W. Kempton Browning of Company K of Plainfield has been placed under military arrest and relieved of his people in Perth Amboy, was named Young. | command because of alleged insubordina-Naturally, they are sure that he must be tion, the charge growing out of his refusal the man who murdered Mrs. Pulitzer. They to obey a command of Col. Collins with reference to transportation to Sea Girt.

Charges have also been preferred against the Lieutenant of Company K, who in the absence of Capt. Browning commanded the men at the funeral of Gen. Oliphant here on Tuesday. It is charged that the men were disorderly on West State street while awaiting the start of the funeral

Capt. Browning has already tendered his resignation because of the treatment he received at the hands of the men of his company during the Sea Girt encampment of the guard.

Gen. Gilmore issued an order on Saturday evening, through Major Gilkyson, the purevening, through Major Gilkyson, the pur-port of which is that some of the staff officers of the brigade have exceeded their authority in the issuing of orders. The order inti-mates that there has been discourteous deliveries of commands. This order is considered to mean that those to whom it has been directed are quite likely to be hauled up for their con-duct.

To Make a Pocket Telephone. LAFAYETTE, Ind , Sept 21 .- A company has been formed here to manufacture a pocket telephone. The receiver is so shaped as to fit the mouth and ear. An aluminum box is fastened to a telephone pole, a key fits this box and when inserted calls the telephone exchange. The caller gives the number he wants and the inser-tion of his key cuts off all persons on the line

NEW STATE COMMITTREMEN.

THE ELEVEN MEN WHO ARE TO REPRESENT THIS COUNTY.

Postmaster Van Cott, Robert Morris, Charles Murray, William Henkel, Lemuel E. Quigg and Chairman Ten Eyek Are Among Those Already Slated.

SARATOGA, Sept. 21.-Since the delegates to the State convention from New York county arrived here they have made up the slate for membership in the State Committee of 1903-04, which will be elected as soon as the delegates are officially recognized and put on the official list. The members of the State Committee represent the Congress districts in the State, and they are chosen by the delegates from these districts elected to the State convention Under the new apportionment, which goes into effect this fall, New York county will have eleven members of the committee, one of whom will also represent Richmond county.

It was asserted authoritatively this evening that Mr. Robert Morris of the Republican County Committee would be sent to of his church to Christianity as accepted, the State Committee from the new Thirteenth Congress district which includes the Twenty-ninth Assembly district. It will be recalled that Mr Morris is having a fine old fight with the organization in the Twentyninth, which is his home district, and that the organization refused to elect him to the County Committee. Mr. Morris was elected to the committee from the Thirtyfirst district and to the State Convention from the First district. Now it is not expected that Mr. Morris will have the support of the Twenty-ninth district delegates for membership in the State Committee, but his friends assert that they will be able to elect him anyway.

The Eighth Congress district has seven delegates from Richmond, two from the First district two from the Second four from the Third and four from the Sixth. Postmaster Van Cott will be elected from rostmaster van Cott win be elected from this district, it was declared this evening, although President Cromwell of Richmond borough has a candidate for the office and is trying to land him. Mr. Van Cott is recognized, however, as one of the most astute political managers of the State, and his presence on the State Committee is regarded as eminently desirable.

Charles Murray, Quarantine Commis-sioner and leader of the Eighth district will be returned from the new Ninth. dinand Eidman, collector of Interna Revenue, will be sent from the new Tenth and National Committeeman Gibbs will be returned from the Eleventh. The new Twelfth presents something of a puzzle, for it is made up of parts of several districts. However, it was said this evening that when the fourteen dele-Henkel, the leader of the Eighteenth district, to represent the district.

It is predicted that Lemuel E. Quigg will be made the member of the committee from the new Fifteenth district, which includes his home district, the Nineteenth, which has nine of the twenty delegates.

In the new Seventeenth, where there is a contest between Assemblyman Bennett of the Twenty-first district and Harvey T. Andrews for the nomination for Congress. the retirement of Senator Samuel Slater is being attempted by the Andrews supporters, who want to have Assembly-man Smith of the Twenty-third named for Senator in the district. In case Andrews supporters have their way it is understood that they are willing that the State Committeemanship should go to the Thirty-first Assembly district, and in that rhiry-life Assembly district, and in that case Tax Commissioner Samuel Strassoourger will be sent to the committee. Ifr. Bennett and Mr. Slater are making a strong fight for the control of the two districts—Congress and Senate. The Twenty-first Assembly district has six delegates to the State convention from that part of the district included in this Congress district, the Twenty-third has nine and to represent this district

SENATOR SLATER INDIGNANT. Denies the Charge That He Tried to Cheat the Late Surveyor Croft's Family.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 21.-In the fight that has been made against Senator Samuel Scott Slater of the Nineteenth district who is opposed for renomination by Assemblyman Smith of the Twenty-third district, t has been charged that Mr. Slater, in his lealings with the estate of the late Surveyor of the Port, Silas G. Croft, who was leader of the Thirty-first district, overcharged the estate and made an effort to "gouge" the family out of some of the money that was due to . . Mr. Slater was in Europe when these charges were made, and he had no opportunity to reply to them

To-day he issued a circular letter to the enrolled voters of the district denying the charge, and declaring that Mr. Croft was at all times one of his warmest friends. Mr. Slater was sent to the Assembly by Mr. Croft; and later, in 1900, was elected to the Senate largely through the efforts of the Surveyor, with whom he was on the most friendly terms. In the circular Mr. Slater says:

"The last charge made was to the effect "The last charge made was to the energy that I had sought to collect money for legal services' from the estate of my old friend, Surveyor Croft. This lie, wickedly conceived and viciously circulated, is the one thing which really attacks my character, because it involves ingratitude, a crime worse than treachery. I have yet to be guilty of ingratitude, of breaking my word or of betraying friendship.

"The facts touching the estate of Surveyor Cooffers these At the Surveyor's request

Croft are these. At the Surveyor's request I indorsed certain notes of his, which were discounted and the proceeds entirely used by him. Since his death I have been obliged to assume obligations which I guaranteed to assume obligations which I guaranteed to the aggregate of over $6,000. I have never sent in a bill of any kind to the estate of Surveyor Croft, but I did send a claim against his estate for over $5,000 on these obligations I have had to assume and will have to pay, from which I have not received one single penny. I have an acknowledgement of this indebtedness signed by the Surveyor himself, in which he 'binds my heirs and assigns forever.' A copy of this statement of the Surveyor was among heirs and assigns forever. A copy of this statement of the Surveyor was among his papers at the time of his death. I have the original in my possession. "I have avoided publishing this because I have a decent hesitancy to drag into the political arena the private affairs of my late friend, Surveyor Croft, whom I sin-cerely leved in his lifetime and whose cerely loved in his lifetime and whos memory I cherish. I do not agree with th doctrine that politics is a cold-bloo-business in which friendship cannot considered. Such a doctrine leads cold-blooded hypocrisy, to treachery and is the mother of faithlessness and every vicious element in character. It was stated last evening that Mr. Slater was preparing several other statements which he would issue at the proper time, defending himself against these charges.

YOUNGS HAS A FIGHT ON. Will Attempt to Retain His Membership of the State Committee.

SARATOGA, Sept. 21. - One of the incidents of the Republican State convention is the attempt of William J. Youngs to retain his membership in the Republican State Committee from the First Congress district. which comprises the counties of Suffolk and Nassau and the eastern half of Queens county. Mr. Youngs will have to fight hard to retain this membership, as the friends of Congressman Frederic Storm trade.

of Bay Side mean to have the scalp of Mr. Youngs for his unsuccessful attempt to prevent the renomination of Congressman Storm.

Mr. Youngs lives in Nassau ccunty. He has been trying to defeat Mr. Storm's renomination by attempting to take some of the delegates in Mr. Storm's own county of the delegates in Mr. Storm's own county of Queens away from him. In that event Mr. Youngs hoped to slip into the nomination, but Mr. Storm's friends frustrated Mr. Youngs's efforts to make trouble in Queens and secured every delegate. This, Mr. Storm's friends claim, means his renomination according to the unwritten rule in this district.

Mr. Youngs is now Deputy State Superintendent of Banks, at a salary of $5,000. Before that he was secretary to the Governor when President Roosevelt filled the executive chair of this State. Mr. Youngs tried to influence President Roosevelt against Mr. Storm's preprint to talling the President. dent Mr. Storm was the weakest candidat that could be named. In support of this it is said Mr. Youngs arranged a luncheon with the President at Sagamore Hill, which was attended by Mr. Youngs and the three chairmen of the Republican County Committee in the Congress district. These chairmen, however, did not uphold Mr. Youngs's contention that Congressman Storm would be a weak candidate at this time, but said he would make an admirable candidate and was entitled to a renomina-

JOB HEDGES HAS RESIGNED. He Gives Up the Office of Deputy Attorney General.

SARATOGA, Sept. 21.-It was announced his evening that Deputy Attorney-General Job E. Hedges of New York county has resigned his office. Attorney-General Davies has selected a man to succeed him but he is not ready to make his name public at present. Mr. Hedges sent his resignation to the Attorney-General over a month ago, after cleaning up the work of his office last Spring and during the summer months, spending most of the summer in the city for the purpose of doing so.

Mr. Hedges was appointed Deputy Attorney-General for New York four years ago, and he took care of a large amount of civil law business for the department. When the law establishing the Metro-politan elections district was passed, Mr. Hedges was called on by the department to look out for the interests of the State. He served as prosecutor in many of the most important election cases that were tried under the Primary and General Elec-tion laws, and secured many convictions. tried under the Primary and General Elec-tion laws, and secured many convictions. Mr. Hedges in resigning the post followed what has become a habit with him of not serving out his term of office in any post that he may be called to. He was ap-pointed secretary by the late Mayor Strong when he entered office, and resigned in 1897 to accept a ten-year place as City Magis-trate. Inside of a year he resigned this office, to be succeeded by Willard H. Olm-sted, now a Justice of Special Sessions.

SENATOR STEWART'S SUCCESSOR. Complications Over the Selection of Republican Candidate.

SARATOGA, Sept. 21 .- Word reached Saratoga to-day that some complications have arisen regarding the selection of a Republican candidate for Senator from the district comprising the counties of Chemung, Tompkins and Schuyler.

Each county has five delegates, eight being necessary to nominate. The Schuyler delegates are for Owen Cassidy of Watkins, who is a lawyer and was a member of the last Constitutional convention and afterward a member of the State Board Health. Senator Stewart of Ithaca ow represents that district, and the delegates from Tompkins county are naturally with him, now that Assemblyman Knipp of Chemung county has withdrawn as a

Some time ago the Chemung county Some time ago the Cheming county Republicans in convention elected five Senate delegates and instructed them for Mr. Knipp. It appears that three of these delegates favored Mr. Cassidy if Mr. Knipp was not a candidate. At the regular county convention of the Cheming Republicans on Saturday this situation was made known by the chairman of the was made known by the chairman of the Senate delegation from that county, who asked for further instructions in view of the fact that Mr. Knipp withdrew with the idea that the Chemung county delegates ould favor Senator Stewart. Thereupon the convention named three new delegates to take the place of those who were disposed to favor Mr. Cassidy. The question has been raised as to whether or not such a substitution is legal.

SHOT SWEETHEART MORTALLY. Jealous Man Wounds His Girl and Then

Commits Suicide. Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 21.—So insanely ealous of Miss Irene Winebrener was David Milton Goughnour of Conemaugh that when another man spoke to her on the street he ecame very ang y. He had put himself down as being her "steady company," and so far as can be learned he had no rivals. Shortly before midnight last night she had occasion to visit a drug store, and while there met Edward Kaylor, who resides several doors from her home.

The pair were walking toward their resi-The pair were walking toward their residences when Goughnour approached from the rear and, drawing a revolver, fired three shots at the young woman. One lodged in her abdomen, inflicting what will probably prove to be a fatal wound. The second bullet lodged near her left kidney and the third grazed one of her arms. The remaining four bullets in the revolver were sent after young Kaylor, who is a mere boy, and who took to his heels when Goughnour began to shoot.

Miss Winebrener ran to an alley, where she fell. Goughnour followed, and seeing she fell. Goughnour followed, and, seeing the woman lying prostrate and believing her dead, reloaded his revolver and fired a bullet through his heart. Death was stantaneous. Both Goughnour and M Winebrener were about 21 years of age, while young Kaylor is still in his teens. The physicians have not been able to find the bullet that lodged in her body, and her

W. WAYNE BELVIN COMPLAINS. Says His Room at the Metropole Was Robbed of a Watch and $420. William Wayne Belvin, known as a promoter and at present living in Boston, reported to the Tenderloin police last night that he was robbed in the Hotel Metropole early yesterday morning of a gold watch and $420. He said the valuables were taken from his room while he was absent. Belvin attained notoriety in 1899 by assert-ing that David H. Moffat owed him $400,000 and by threatening to kill him. On May 5, 1901, he was arrested in Buffalo for sending a telegram to Secretary Cortelyou, telling him that President McKinley's train would be blown up by dynamite in WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The Rev. Albert R. Stuart, late rector of Christ Church, Episcopal, of this city, died this evening after a short illness. Dr. Stuart has been the rector of Christ Church for over twenty-six years. He was born in Charleston, S. C., April 1, 1846, and served several years s. C., April 1, 1846, and served several years in the Confederate Army. The study of theology appealed to him, and shortly after the close of the war he entered the Spartanburg Episcopal Seminary, and later he went to the Virginia Theological Seminary. His first charge was a church at Chester, S. C., and for two years he was rector of St. Paul's Church, Chillicothe, Ohio. On June 17, 1876, he preached his first sermon at Christ Church, Georgetown.

Death of the Rev. Albert R. Stuart.

New Sheltered-Deck Steamer.

The steamer Gracehus, which arrived last night from Newcastle-on-Tyne, is a new steamer built at Newcastle, is 316 feet long and has a sheltered deck. She can carry 750 horses besides 5,750 tons of cargo. She has triple expansion engines and is fitted throughout with electric lights. The Gracchus was built for the Australian and Indian

B. Altman& Co.

3,500 yards of Crepe Canvas, in Street and Evening Shades, at

65c. per yard. Monday, Sept. 22d, at (Rear of Rotunda.)

Eighteenth Street, Mineteenth Street and Sixth Avenue.

ROOSEVELT AVOIDS CROWDS.

TRIES TO TAKE A QUIET DRIVE IN DETROIT STREETS.

Wouldn't Go on the Thoroughfares the Police Had Planned to Take Him -Two Children Nearly Run Down by His Carriage-Visit to a Hospital.

DETROIT, Sept. 21.-The day of the Presdent in Detroit has been a contrast to that busy Sunday in Chattanooga three weeks ago. Then the President had more sightseeing and parading to do than he rain at half past 8 o'clock this morning, and was met by former Secretary Alger and Mayor Maybury, who escorted him to the Cadillac Hotel. He attended services at the Fort Street Presbyterian Church. The police here took charge of the church service as they did of everything else pertaining to the President's visit during the day. They issued tickets to the church and posted guards to see that only regular pewholders and ticket holders were admitted. The preacher, the Rev. E. M. Pence, preached "Christ and Him crucifled" and left the trusts and politics alone. After an informal luncheon at Gen. Alger's house with Gov. Bliss. Mayor Maybury and a number of members of the variious reception committees, the President went for a drive through the city. The police had arranged that this should be in the nature of a public function and had published the route which the carriage was to take. The police horses were hitched to the carriage and Police Captain Guyman acted as driver. He was in full uniform. The President directed that the crowd should be avoided as far as possible and that his carriage should not be followed by those of the others of his party. When the carriage was approaching the bridge to Belle Island, the city's great park, however, it was seen that the park was massed full of people and the visit to the park was abandoned and the horses were turned back. Just as they were starting up two little girls, about 10 years old, ran out in front of the carriage. wanted to cross the street and the other wanted to pull her back. They stood tugging at each other until the big horses were almost upon them. Capt. Guyman leaned back and hauled on the reins until the lbrses were rearing high in the air and held them up on their hind legs until a policeman from the sidewalk snatched the children out of the way, greatly to the relief of the President and had been told that Doherty had begged the doctors and his nurses to let him be put on a stretcher and be carried in a wagon to a stretcher and be carried in a wagen to some place from which he could get a good glimpse of the President. He said he was willing to risk his life for the privilege.

The President arrived here on his special

The President's appearance here is in connection with the convention of the Spanish War Veterans and he was particularly touched by the story about Doherty. He insisted on going to the hospital and seeing the sick soldier. With Mr. Cortelyou he went into the ward and stayed by Doherty's side for a quarter of an hour or more. Doherty announced when the Presi-Doherty announced when the Presi dent went away that he was going to get well now just to prove that the President had not wasted time.

not wasted time.

There was a mass meeting of coalstrikers, sympathizers at the Light Guard Armory to-night. The Mayor and the Governor both attended. Yesterday one of the organizers of the meeting sent a telegram to the President with the intimation that if he did not attend the meeting he would affect many thousands of union laboring. affront many thousands of union laboring men in Detroit.

The President remains in his rooms at the Cadillac to-night. Mayor Maybury got a message for the man who had tele-graphed to the President to the effect that the President could not consider the ac-ceptance of invitations sent on such short notice and without any preliminary

The President will make two speeches tomorrow. One will be addressed to the Spanish war veterans and the other will be an after-dinner speech at a public banquet. There will be a parade of the Spanish was reserved. ish war veterans to-morrow afternoon.

ROOSEVELT HURTS HIS CHANCES. That's the London "Telegraph's" View of His Trust Plan.
Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN

LONDON, Sept. 22.-The Telegraph holds that President Roosevelt's declaration at Cincinnati overshadows in definite importance even his New England addresses. It says that he raises the greatest Constitutional issue since the Civil War.

The President in one sense has cleared the air and brought his personal programme into strong focus. In another sense he has probably jeopardized his prospects of

The Forsythe Waist.

Special Opening TO-DAY. Surpassing All Former Displays.

TAILOR-MADE Velvet Waists, Silk Waists, Flannel Waists. Neckwear, Belts,

A Man's Glove for Women.

THE FORSYTHE $1.50 GLOVE. A special glove for women, which we have spent years in perfecting. It is an ideal walking or shopping glove, with a style of its own, and is entirely superior to and unlike anything hitherto made. Mannish in leather, cut and stitching; easy fitting; long wrist; large pearl button. At $1.50 absolutely unequaled. Three shades of Tan; White, Black and Grey.

John Forsythe

THE WAIST HOUSE. 865 Broadway, bet. 17th and 18th Sts.

Mail Orders Promptly Filled. Send for Samples. reflection by placing his trust policy upon a basis which the entire Democratic party will reject as unpractical and impracticable, while at the same time it will be repugnant to a large section of the Republicans themselves and can never be considered as promising by any outside oberver of American affairs. The writer maintains that combinations are more inevitable than artificial growth, and says that if they have nothing to fear before the amendment of the Constitution takes place their demise is not to be anticipated until a sufficiently remote period when it will be possible to return a verdict of death from natural causes

GOV. CUMMINS AMUSED.

Ham Lewis's Theory That Henderson Wants to Be President Makes Him Laugh. BOSTON, Sept. 21 .- Gov. Albert B. Cummins of Iowa read a newspaper despatch his companions, who were standing up in the barouche horror-stricken.

On his way back to the hotel the President stopped at St. Mary's Hospital to visit Patrick Doherty, a former member of the Thirty-second Michigan Volunteers, who is ill with Cuban fever. The President had been talk that Doherty had begred to the Companion of the President and said:

"That absurd rumor can be disposed of the Companion of the President and the Companion of the Comp in a very few words. Gen. Henderson was born in Scotland. That fact is well known to the friends of the Iowa Congressman. and when taken in connection with the Con-and when taken in connection with the Constitutional provisions that no foreign-born man can aspire to the Presidency, effectually disposes of that nonsensical rumor.

"Mr. Henderson is an earnest and conscientious man, and I have taken him as his word. I do not now believe that he can be prevailed upon to change his mind from that decision, for had he any idea of so doing his course thus far would not in any sense help his candidacy."

HENDERSON COMING BASTA Leaves Dubuque for Atlantic City, When

His Wife and Daughter Are. DUBUQUE, Ia., Sept. 21 .- Speaker Hender son left Dubuque to-night for Atlantic City. He cancelled all campaign engages ments in this district and is undecided whether he will keep engagements with the National committee. His sudden desparture is said to be due to his desire to avoid the charge that he is seeking to dictate to the convention which is to be held next Thursday to nominate his successor.

Mr. Henderson goes to Atlantic City bearing to the charge that he is seeking to dictate the convention which is to be held next Thursday to nominate his successor. Mr. Henderson goes to Atlantic City be-cause his wife and daughter are there, the latter ill.

Ubjects to McGuire's Proposed State Delegates.

STRACUSE, Sept. 21.-Alderman John D. Scanlon, Democratic leader of the Ninth ward, is involved in a fight with former Mayor James K. McGuire over McGuire's proposed list of delegates to the Democratic State Convention. Scanlon accuses McGuire of naming "wealthy political drones.

"You won't send'any such delegates without a fight," Scanlon told McGuire. "Wo won't stand for any ornaments or carpetbaggers. Why don't you give the young fellows who do all the work a chance?" Liquor Tax Certificate Revoked NEWBURGH, Sept. 21 .- Judge Dickey has revoked the liquor tax certificate of Per

Riebling of Queens county. It was done on application of the State Excise Com-missioner, who charged Riebling with keeping a nickel-in-the-slot gambling ma-

W. & J. Sloane

We have just received and are now showing a splendid assortment of

English Wilton Carpets

in superb designs and colorings, suitable for the highest class of furnishing. The patterns have been made exclusively for us and are not obtainable elsewhere.

Broadway & 19th Street.